

Sixth Luca d'Agliano Summer School

Massimo Livi Bacci

Population and Migration: a Historical Approach

In the three sessions a general outline of the history of migration in the western world will be presented, with a particular attention to the interaction between migration and population change.

Session 1

The demographic system and migration: general issues. Europe: settlement of the continent and the occupation of space. The great German migration eastward. Rural-urban migration and the growth of European cities. Energy and mobility. Internal mobility. Labor migration and labor markets before 1800. The beginning of transoceanic migration, 1500-1800.

Massimo Livi Bacci, The Population of Europe, Blackwell, Oxford, 1999, pp. 1-39, 116-122.

Massimo Livi Bacci, I cicli secolari delle popolazioni europee, in "Limes" 2007, (in stampa)

H. Aubin, German colonisation eastward, in "Cambridge Economic History of Europe", vol. I, Cambridge, 1966

Session II

The industrial revolution and the demographic transition. The migration system until the first world war. Demographic, social and economic aspects of international migration, 1800-1920.

Massimo Livi Bacci, A Concise History of World Population, Blackwell, Oxford, 2007 [fourth edition], pp. 98-137.

S. Castles and M. J. Miller, The Age of Migration, Guilford, New York, 2003 (3rd edition), chapter 3.

Session III

Europe: from a continent of emigration to one of immigration. The end of the transoceanic migration. The closing of the continent, 1920-1945. Demographic depression and immigration: the case of Italy.

S. Castles and M. J. Miller, The Age of Migration, Guilford, New York, 2003 (3rd edition), chapters 4 and 5

United Nations, Replacement Migration, New York, 2001.